

Story Pixies Intermediate Milestone

Alyssa Hardy

Video self-modeling is a very effective method for teaching newly developing skills. Story Pixies is a video self-modeling tool which helps to create your own stories from existing templates, or create a brand-new story of your own. It also allows you to create non-video stories to introduce unfamiliar scenarios to your child, such as taking a long trip to see family. Currently, the storybook and library functionalities are done. Next is the template creator functionality, which is a bit more involved, and a collection of stock templates.
